

Day 7: #AmericaNeedsLove

Introducing John and His Rescue Dog "Smoky"

John and his wife were trekking through the Smoky Mountains and they came upon a dog laying in the gravel. Upon further inspection, he and his wife realized this animal had a sharp, spiky choker collar around his neck. The dog was suffering and suffocating from it. They hurried the dog in their vehicle, brought him to the vet, where he was nursed back to health!

Later, John contacted the owner as per the collar, "I found your dog. You're not getting him back. He is mine now. Bye."

They named him Smoky and the rest is history. #AmericaNeedsLove commends John's courage and compassion for our furry friends!!!!
